- Yong YUAN, Tongji University, China
- Chunwei ZHANG, Qingdao University of Technology, China

Organising Committee

Advisors:

- Minh Dai NGUYEN, Institute for Building Science and Technology, Ministry of Construction (MOC), Vietnam
- Giang Hoang NGUYEN, National University of Civil Engineering, Vietnam
- Cuong NGO-HUU, Ho Chi Minh City University of Technology, Vietnam
- Long NGUYEN-MINH, Ho Chi Minh City University of technology, Vietnam
- Kaiming BI, Curtin University, Australia
- Wensu CHEN, Curtin University, Australia

Members:

- Linh Thi Thuy Le, National University of Civil Engineering, Vietnam
- Nga Thu NGUYEN, Kanazawa University, Japan

Call for Papers

Researchers and professionals are invited to present the latest research findings in protection technology and methodologies at the Conference, to be held in Hanoi, Vietnam from Tuesday to Wednesday, 30-31 October 2018. The conference will be hosted by the Vietnam National University of Civil Engineering (NUCE). Abstracts (400 words) are to be submitted by email to the Secretariat: cipremie@singnet.com.sg

Important dates

- 31 March 2018 – Registration opens
- 31 May 2018 – To submit abstracts
- 31 August 2018 – To submit full texts

Conference Themes

The PSH2018 Conference will continue the discussion started in 2002 on both natural and man-made hazards; the engineering and technological aspects and issues that will make buildings and structures safer against:

- Terrorists attacks
- Impact and shock loads
- Fire
- Chemical and biological hazards
- Structural collapse (architectural, structural and construction)
- Corrosion and natural degradation

- Vibrations
- Ground subsidence
- Blast on Structures
- Hazards in Dams
- Seismic risks
- Typhoon, water and wind
- Other natural hazards

Discussion of related issues are also invited, such as:

- Disaster prevention and mitigation (preventive measures)
- Rescue, safety and evacuation techniques
- Risk and reliability

Hanoi, Vietnam

Hanoi, capital city of Vietnam, is one of the most ancient capitals in the world. This city of opportunity charms with old world reminiscence amidst thriving modern developments, housing the country's tallest building. There are seven rivers flowing through Hanoi, shaping this beautiful city. The months of October to December are some of the best times to visit and meet in Vietnam, and we look forward to welcoming you in Hanoi!
